LIFE LONG DEMOCRAT

Thos. Hisgen is Out For Col. Roosevelt.

Was Once Candidate For Governor of Massachusetts and Prominent Leader.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 24.—Thomas L. Hisgen, Independence League candidate for President in 1908, and the former Eastern competitor of the Standard Oil Company, today declared himself unopposed to Robert Roosevelt's candidacy for President.

Mr. Hisgen's declaration is of added importance, in that it was brought about by John D. Archibald's attack upon Robert Roosevelt. Mr. Hisgen says that the numerous nature of the Archibald attacks yesterday and the majority with which it was greeted have convinced him that Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy offers the only hope for legislation which is likely to prove effective in holding money and speculative combinations in check in the future.

Mr. Hisgen has been a lifelong Democrat except in 1907 and 1908. In the former years, as the Independence League candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, he finished second in the race, polling more votes than the regular Democratic nominee. This remarkable run made him the logical Presidential nominee of the Independent new League the following year.

Beyond question Mr. Hisgen is the best known Independent oil distributor in the United States. He is president of the Four Brothers' Independent Oil Company, which, for ten years, has successfully competed with the Standard Oil Company in the wholesale field between Albany, N. Y., and Hartford, Mr. Hisgen's fight against the Standard Oil Trust is without parallel for length of duration and extent of territory involved. He is also a former president of the Independent Petroleum Marketers' Association of the United States.

Mr. Hisgen is one of a few men in a position to prove that Col. Roosevelt's decision to proceed against the Standard Oil Company antedated the Collier's nomination in 1904. Mr. Hisgen speaks from personal knowledge, backed by specific documentary evidence, and he proposes to take the step to tell what he knows. Mr. Hisgen made public last night the following statement:

"I know that Theodore Roosevelt speaks the truth when he says that the real prosecution of the trust was begun before his nomination. As early as 1903 investigators from the national government had approached our firm and were then gathering evidence for the prosecution of the group that Senator Beveridge called the 'trust-busting government of the United States.'"

"In the oil fields and throughout the East, the government, before Theodore Roosevelt was nominated in 1904, was slowly gathering the evidence that was later used to free industry from the grip of Standard Oil. Why was this Standard Oil contribution made in secret? Why in cash instead of by check? Why did it not appear on the Standard Oil books? How unfortunate Archibald's only witness is dead."

"It was personally interviewed by men representing the government of the United States long before Archibald made the alleged contribution to the Republican fund. If he did contribute, he was helping about the most earnest enemy he has ever had in the presidency of the United States of America."

"I would have given a great deal to have been present in the Senate chamber when Archibald was testifying. Why was he not asked about the other contributions that he has been making to Senators for the five years prior to 1912?"

"Why did they not force him to submit his private correspondence and tear the mask off the bunch of Standard Oil-paid Senators who have been defiling the fair name of the United States?"

"They brought him in to defend Pennam and attack Roosevelt, and thus establish clearly in the minds of everyone that it is the plan-band against the people, and Roosevelt represents the people."

"During the time that Archibald claims to have contributed, and even during the election period, I have, absolutely certain of election, was securing the independent oil interests through a special group of power men with which he was surrounded. As soon as elected, he would begin his business war against the men who in one year brought my own company's business to a point where it showed a loss so staggering that we offered it to any independent who would continue the war."

"When Roosevelt started after the Standard Oil Company the railroad no longer kept back our shipments, we were given a special deal on our traffic, and thus we were able to bring our station back to a profitable basis."

"Had Roosevelt been defeated in 1912, we should have ceased our Springfield station, which has been the backbone of our fight."

"During the primaries I received many telegrams from the oil fields saying that the producers were praying for the nomination of Roosevelt. He is the only man who in recent years has fought the unpopular trust relentlessly and successfully."

Rhea Will Not Contest.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 23.—It is probable that John Rhea of Logan county will not contest the nomination of Congressman R. Y. Thomas in the Third district. State Treasurer Thomas Rhea, his brother, stated that the contest is likely to be dropped. The district is very close, said Mr. Rhea. "Party discipline would be jeopardized if it would be to his advantage to further contest. If he should win the contest and by any reason of the feeling stirred up the district be thrown to the Republicans. So, in the interest of party welfare, my brother has about made up his mind to let the contest drop."

NEW INDUSTRY AT OWENSBORO

Company Will Engage in Manufacturing Tobaccos And Cigars.

The Owensboro Inquirer says: The Indian Tobacco Manufacturing company has lodged for record in the county clerk's office articles incorporating its business. The capital stock is fixed at $500, divided into 50 shares of $10 each.

The incorporators are J. M. Vaughn, Henry S. Berry, John Fule, J. W. Daniel, Lee D. Ray, Walter Boye, Walter Atkinson, William Sutherland, John H. Berry and C. M. Mullen. The corporation is to be conducted by a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, general manager and a board of five directors. The officers have not all been selected as yet, but John H. Berry will be the president and Lee D. Ray, vice president. The board of directors elected will remain in office until the first Monday in July, 1913.

The location for the plant has not been definitely settled, but it is likely that it will be on East Second street. All the machinery, including, etc., has been purchased, and by the early part of this week work will begin installing it.

The incorporation of the plant will go in the hands of John W. Daniel one of the stockholders who has had considerable experience in the handling of tobacco.

As soon as the location is finally settled and the machinery is installed, a small number of hands will be put to work and the capacity of the plant will be increased from time to time as the business justifies it.

The company will engage in the manufacturing of smoking and chewing tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, snuff, and any and all products into which tobacco may be manufactured from its natural state. They will also sell products manufactured at wholesale and retail in Kentucky, and in all other states in the United States where the corporation may find a market for its products and desire to do business.

The product of the factory will be made according to the invention of Mr. John H. Berry, who has succeeded in taking the sick out of a smoke or phlegm without destroying its nicotine properties.

BRYAN WILL DO MOST OF WORK

Wilson to Make But Few Speeches.

Ollie James, of Kentucky Will Also Lend Assistance to Democrats.

New York, August 23.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson spent today at the University Club, resting from a week of activity and preparing for a conference here tomorrow destined to have an important bearing on the presidential campaign.

With Vice Chairman McAdoo and members of the Campaign Committee, the Governor tomorrow will map out the actions of country where he will speak and a schedule of addresses will be agreed upon.

Present plans call for few speeches from the candidate himself but a larger number from William J. Bryan, Speaker Champ Clark, Representative Oscar W. Underwood, Governor Harmon of Ohio and Ross of Massachusetts, Senators Ollie James of Kentucky and James of Massachusetts, and scores of members of both Houses of Congress.

Through the Governor's plan at present is to make a number of speeches in the more important cities of the country, these speeches in no sense to be a swing around the circle or stump tour. It is anticipated that the campaign may involve considerable changes in the program adopted.

Mr. Bryan has arranged his own campaign, to begin about September 1. He will speak for the first time in the Middle West, beginning at St. Paul, Minn., and ending in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Missouri, Illinois and Ohio. In these States, Mr. Bryan will make big stump tours, but he also will devote as much time as possible to States east of the Mississippi River.

While Mr. Bryan is concentrating on the Northwest and the Middle West, Speaker Clark will tour the Southwest. After his three speeches in Maine next week, he will proceed to Missouri, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. The Campaign Committee idea was to have Speaker Clark visit those States in which he thought he could be of the most value. He has chosen, therefore, those localities which supported him at the Baltimore convention.

Representative Underwood will speak for the most part in the East, and probably will discuss chiefly the tariff. The Democratic House leader has informal Representative Burleson, of Texas, chairman of the speaker's bureau, that he wishes to rest until the end of September, but will then begin active campaign work. He will make a number of speeches in New York State, New Jersey, Delaware, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Gov. Harmon, of Ohio, will speak in the Middle West, and Gov. Ross, of Massachusetts, who is campaigning in Vermont now for the national ticket, will fill a number of engagements outside of New England as well according to present plans.

Distillery Slop Barrels.

Frankfort, Aug. 26.—War will be waged by the state fish and game commission on all distillers using the rivers as soap barrels for their distillates. It is explained by the commission that the slop is very injurious to the fish as it gets into their gills and stomachs and disease them. Several distilling plants have installed redwyes, which drain out the pulp, which is then baked and sold, and the distillers will have to either install redwyes or find some other means of getting rid of the slop.

The commission has about decided to ask the next general assembly to amend the law so as to permit fishermen to use a five-inch seine, which will hold the big fish and permit the little ones to escape.

Notice.

Besta Local No. 559 will meet in regular session Friday night Aug. 30. Members that have not signed the tobacco pool, are urged to be present and sign same.

TRIBUTE PAID WILLIAM BOOTH

Eulogies Upon Late Leader of Salvation Army

Thousands of Persons Visit Congress Hall To View Body.

London, Aug. 23.—Great crowds gathered outside of Congress Hall today, expecting to view the body of the late General William Booth, which for two days has been lying in state. The body, however, had been removed over night to the General's private room and the hall was used for the regular Salvation Army services.

The building was filled to its capacity of 2,000 persons at each of the three services. Of the floral tributes massed on the platform, those of Queen Mother Alexandra and Emperor William were the most notable. The British and foreign flags and the decorations on the walls of the hall had not been removed.

Tributes were paid to the dead general in all the non-conformist pulpits and in most of the pulpits of the established church today. Eulogies also were read in the Catholic churches. In Nottingham, General Booth's birthplace, a special service was held in West-yon Chapel which the Salvationist attended in his youth.

Belgrave Wood and Pastor Lake will officiate at the funeral ceremony in Olympia Hall.

Party bands will play "Handel's Dead March in Style" and to this accompaniment the body will be taken into the hall by a procession of Salvationists of all ranks and of both sexes, bearing the flags of the nations they represent. The flag unfurled by General Booth on Mount Calvary also will be displayed.

In Albany Park Cemetery the service will consist of prayers, addresses and songs. Miss Eva Booth, co-member of the Army in the United States, will speak, and Bramwell Booth will read the commitment service.

One hundred and fifty thousand persons visited Congress Hall Friday and Saturday, the two days the body was lying in state.

Loophole in Whiskey Act.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 23.—Grief came to the hearts of the temperance people and a corresponding joy to the "boot-leggers," when it was discovered today that the principal clause in the Prohibition bill had been left out, while being enrolled. The printed bill provided a heavy penalty for purchasing, preparing or delivering intoxicating liquors in local option territory.

Each pipe in the enrolled bill, except in the caption and the exemption of common carriers doing an interstate business, the word "delivery" was omitted. In the prohibitory phrase the words "for to deliver to another" were left out, practically invalidating the act.

Dr. N. A. Palmer, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in this state, said that the omission of the word "delivery" must have been intentional, and the temperance organization in the state will demand an investigation. Senator Frost will be notified and the copyist of the bill will be arrested and the name given out to the public.

S. of E. and Home Warehouse Co., to meet in their respective school-houses on the Taft Gives Up Fight.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 23.—President Taft in a speech from the rear platform of his private car here today, declared that he did not intend to pursue any further part in active politics. "I am not here to make a political speech," said the President. "I have given that up. I believe that there are some politics going, but I am not going to take part in them. So far as I am concerned, you will have to make up your minds without hearing me further. I am on a trip to my own State to celebrate one hundred years of political life, and I have something to say to the people of Ohio on that subject but not on politics."

PRODIGAL WITH COUNTRY'S COIN

Democratic Congress Spends More Than One Controlled By Republicans.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Congress passed another billion-dollar session today but the exact total of the Nation's "coast of living" varies as it is seen through Republican and Democratic eyes.

The total appropriations for the fiscal year 1913, which began July 1, 1912, amount to $1,018,636,143.66 as given to the Senate and House today by Senator Warren and Representative Fitzgerald, respectively the chairmen of the two appropriation committees.

It is conceded by both of these leaders that this is $7,046,000 less than the Nation's budget of 1912, but it remained for former Speaker Cannon, in behalf of the Republican forces of the House, to produce figures to show that the present Democratic Congress had actually appropriated more for general purposes than did the preceding Republican Congress.

Representative Cannon declared that out of the general total should be taken all expenditures made for the Panama Canal. With such deductions, he said the total appropriations for 1913 would be $990,556,121, as compared with a total of $981,122,881 appropriated for general purposes last year.

Projections that the Government would face a heavy deficit at the end of the year were made both by Sen. Warren and Representative Cannon.

Senator Warren said President Taft and his cabinet had carefully reduced estimates to the lowest figures.

The appropriations actually made are more than $21,000,000 less than the estimates and the Republican leaders declare it will be impossible for the existing Government agencies to keep with them.

TAFT WILL NOT STUMP COUNTRY

Will Fill Only a Few Im- portant Dates.

Says He Will Talk Politics Only If Delegations Call on Him.

Washington, Aug. 25.—President Taft's plans for leaving Washington were tonight as indefinite as those of Congress for adjournment. With the General Deficiency Bill still pending in both Houses it is impossible for him to get away although his friends know that the President is anxious to go north and enjoy the rest and seclusion of Beverly for a few weeks.

The President did not get to bed in the White House until early today and consequently missed his usual Sunday morning church service. He remained in the White House until late this afternoon and then took a long motor ride about Washington's suburbs.

His only caller during the day was Senator Crane of Massachusetts. He expressed the hope that Congress would solve its difficulties in time to permit his departure for Beverly tomorrow night.

If he finds it impossible to leave then he probably will not go north from Washington but will journey to Beverly by way of Columbus, Ohio, where he has an engagement Thursday. Even the Columbus engagement, made many months ago, will be cancelled if Congress remains in session until late Wednesday night and the President's vacation also will be postponed.

The President told friends who talked with him early today that he expected to keep only a few important engagements after leaving Washington. He made it clear that he does not intend to enter into a stump campaign of any sort.

He believes that he has been misunderstood and has decided to make several political speeches before the election.

His friends were told that he would do practically no talking on political subjects unless Republican organizations visit him at Beverly or unless any of his engagements are turned into political gatherings.

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the listless, the pale and wrinkled face, hollow and circled eyes, result most often from those disorders peculiar to women. For the woman to be happy and good-looking the must naturally have good health. Dragging-down feelings, hysteria, hot-flashes or constantly returning pains and aches—are too great a drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and correcting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing symptoms.

"I suffered greatly for a number of years and for the past three years was so bad that life was a misery to me," writes Mrs. L. D. Dyer, of Upton, Ohio, June 4. "The doctors told me I would have to go to a hospital before I could ever be better. A year ago this winter and spring I was worse than ever before. At each period I suffered like one in torment. I am the mother of six children. I was so bad for five months that I knew something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling him as nearly as I could how I suffered. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed to the letter. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a fifteen-cent bottle of 'Smart-Weed,' and have never suffered much since. I wish I could tell every suffering woman the world over what a boon Dr. Pierce's medicines are. There is no use wasting time and money doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about every woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 21 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only.

GREATEST IN HISTORY.

Tenth Annual State Fair, Sept. 9-14, Will Mark an Epoch.

With the greatest array of exhibits in live stock as well as of all other products of which the state is famous already guaranteed for the Kentucky State Fair this year, it is the prediction of those in charge of the arrangements that the exhibition to be held the week of Sept. 9-14, inclusive, will be the biggest and best ever seen in the south or middle west and that it will mark an epoch in the history of agricultural and live stock exhibitions. Not since the Kentucky State Fair was inaugurated ten years ago has the same amount of interest been shown in the event as that being taken this year by the officials and the public spirited citizens of the state, lavishing the greatest Fair, from an artistic and display standpoint at least, in the history of the association.

One of the most important improvements will be that of the enlarged grand stand, which, when completed the latter part of August, will be twice the size of the stand that has been used to accommodate the crowds the past four years. The new addition to the stand will be of the same concrete construction as the part now standing, and when completed the stand will have a seating capacity of 5,000 people.

Martyrdom of the Bride.
A peculiar and barbaric marriage custom of the Kabye women of Africa consists in the martyrdom of the bride, who, clad in her wedding finery, stands through an entire morning against a pillar in the village square, her eyes closed, her arms pressed to her sides and with only the narrow base of the column for a foothold, while a ring of villagers criticize and comment on her appearance.—Argonaut.

JUDGING CONTEST

BY FARMER BOYS.

This Will Be a State Fair Feature
Week of Sept. 9-14.

With a view of further encouragement to the farmer boys of Kentucky to gain a scientific knowledge of agriculture the State Fair management has again this year made arrangements for a renewal of the students' judging contest, which has proved so popular in the past, and a scholarship in the agricultural college of the State university, carrying with it $100 in cash, will be offered for the best judge of several classes. The contest will consist of rings for horses, cattle, sheep and swine exhibited at the State Fair, and written statements are to be presented by each contestant setting forth his reasons for the decisions reached by him.

The contest this year will be under the personal supervision of Professor J. J. Hooper, professor of animal husbandry of the Kentucky State university, at Lexington, and it is his purpose to devote much of his time from now until the date of the Fair in working up interest among the farmer boys of the state in the event. Inasmuch as the farmer boys of Kentucky are proud of their ability to correctly judge a horse or other farm animal, much interest is always manifested in this contest, and as many applications for entry blanks have been received by Secretary Dent this year it is expected that keen rivalry will exist among several hundred young men and boys the week of the Fair, Sept. 9-14. Any boy who wishes to enter the contest can secure an application blank by applying to J. L. Dent, secretary of the State Fair, room 320 Paul Jones building, Louisville, and all information relative to the contest will be forwarded to the applicant with the entry blank.

MIDWAY ATTRACTIONS.

To Be Featured at State Fair, Week of Sept. 9-14.

The Midway attractions to be featured at the State Fair this year will be far and above the average, as it is the purpose of the management to provide only the best for the patrons of the Kentucky Institution. In order to carry out such an arrangement Secretary J. L. Dent will visit the shows two weeks before the date of the Kentucky State Fair, which is the week of Sept. 9-14, and make a personal inspection with a view of eliminating any and all unattractive or freak features. The shows engaged for the Fair are the Mizeppo and United Shows combined, and this name in itself is sufficient to guarantee a high class and clean line of attractions, but to make it doubly sure Secretary Dent has planned the personal inspection to satisfy himself. It is the purpose of the management to provide such a line of sideshows that parents can let their children visit the shows day and night without the attendance of older members of the family.

In order to further carry out this feature of the program the management has contracted with a number of well known Kentuckians to be stationed both on the inside and outside of each of the Midway attractions during the week to look after the welfare of the patrons and to see that nothing is said or done that would in the least offend the eye or ear of any person within the inclosure.

BAD FOR THE STOMACH.

When Non-fatty Foods Are Intimately Mixed With Grease.

The stomach never has the least power of digesting true fat. This is disposed of in the intestines. When eaten in the ordinary form, as fat meat, butter, etc., the fat separates out in the stomach and does not in the least interfere with the work of the gastric juice on the other food, but when a non-fatty food has been intimately mixed with grease the latter prevents the gastric juice getting at the food it could digest.

Fish fried in oil or butter is by no means the most marked example, as the fat does not penetrate very deeply. Potatoes mashed with butter are rather worse, and minced vegetables fried with butter are bad offenders. The reason advanced explains why pork is difficult of digestion. The muscular fibers are mixed up with fat cells, and by the liberation of the oil in each tiny cell the eaten pork is made into an oily paste.

A very strong stomach will do the work required, but it is not a fair task to impose frequently, and a weak stomach will refuse to do anything beyond reminding its owner by a few stabs that it will not stand such treatment.—Exchange.

Gymnasium Training.

Every person who has received gymnasium training is aware of the fact that an exercise which calls for painful effort on the part of the beginner is often performed almost without any conscious effort at all after a certain amount of training has been received. Again, it is perfectly well known that brute strength alone does not make a gymnast and that even a simple exercise may offer great difficulty to a muscular and well developed individual who has not been trained in the gymnasium. The explanation for this is made in an article by Professor DuBois Raymond in Die Umschau, who points out that one of the essential functions of gymnasium work is not so much to build up muscle as to train nerves and nerve groups to work in proper unison and co-ordination.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30.

PROGRESSIVE TICKET.

For President,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
For Vice President,

Americans have no time for a man who slanders another and then runs away.

Taft has announced that he will make no campaign speeches. Well, what is the use?

Who will argue that the judges who have resigned under fire, should not have been recalled?

Some persons seem to think an occasional resignation will answer all the purposes of the recall.

As we go along don't forget that the Democrats are responsible for the policy of New York City.

The utterances of Woodrow Wilson have become so mild that his friends wouldn't know them unless labeled.

Coh. Bryan contributes $1,000 to the Wilson campaign fund. This does not look much like the simplicity of 1896.

The Kentucky Republicans have read all the Bull Moose out of the party, and now they have to borrow elections of floors.

A wrong door pursued by the New York police, threw one dollar bills over his shoulder but the police did not stop. The bills were too small.

Anytime the Standard Oil Company seems to be against Roosevelt in this campaign. This is a compliment not yet paid to Taft or Wilson.

Taft has gone back to Baworly and the golf links, and is willing to let others worry about the problems confronting the "dear people".

Whenever the Republican party in Ohio county gets so weak as to resolve the sympathy of the Hartford Herald it is time to draw the curtain.

That third term proposition don't seem to bother the people much. What they want to know is whether the bosses are willing for them to have a voice in any term.

Why not talk about that $25,000 contributed by Belmont to the Democratic campaign fund in 1901. Mr. Parker was temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention.

Woodrow Wilson may be good in his Greek, Latin and higher mathematics but that fact will not prevent the hard times, under low wages, sure to come if he is elected President.

The Progressive platform indorses the Initiative and referendum, which means more voice for the people in their government. All who are opposed to this, stand up or raise your hand.

The farmer who accepts the free trade idea under the contention that he is not benefited by a protective tariff may, and votes away his market to Canada and other foreign countries, who in the same condition as the call which left his mother to follow the star, at supper time.

Editor Waterson, who has admitted that he tried to arrange to have Thos. F. Ryan finance the pre-convention campaign of Gov. Woodrow Wilson, is writing daily editorials in the Courier-Journal in vile abuse of Theodore Roosevelt, because Arnold says the Standard Oil Co., contributed money to the Republican campaign fund in 1901. His sayings not only wound like an old man in his dotage but also like one in his cups.

The Bull Moose must be affirming certain Democratic politicians in Ohio county, who had been looking forward to the county offices next year because of the Republican split. The split seems to be too one-sided for them. Hence the ludicrous attitude of some of the leaders in trying to play wot wone to their opportunity, who originated, in his present sick and weak condition. Men who stand for Progressive principles and honesty in political campaigns are not to be fooled by a few moves.

A 30c more than six months of Democratic rule in Kentucky has brought the State to bankruptcy, and it is reported that the Legislature is to convene in extra session to raise the tax rate to provide for the salaries of new officers, increase in salaries and to pay pensions to Civil War soldiers provided for by the last session. It is evident the McCorty administration is to repeat history and corroborate everything predicted for it during the campaign last fall. One prediction which has come true is the reduction of the school per capita twenty-five cents from last year.

The Hartford Herald is very much concerned about the Secretary of the Republican County Committee at present. It is worried because he signs some documents and does not sign others. The Herald editor is advised to possess himself as much as his nature will permit, under the stress of circumstances, with our assurance that he will come out in the wash in a few days, and should he need further explanation about our personal affairs or those connected with Ohio County Republican or Progressive Committees, we will land him out behind the barn and inform him to our utmost ability.

Just think of it. The Hartford Herald advises the "regular" Republicans about a saloon of the Progressives to swallow them up, in Ohio county. When did the Herald get to be guardian for Republicans in Ohio county? It pretends to have discovered a plan upon the part of the Progressive party to get help from Republicans to carry the County for Roosevelt this fall and then all get together on a county ticket next year. This is what it fears most of all. The Republican who takes advice from the Herald needs a guardian angel, it closes its advice with the wail, "The main idea of the Roosevelt forces is to gain control of the party machinery in County, State and Nation and accomplishing this, it would be good-bye to regular Republicanism forever." Good-bye! Look at the bear status on the Herald editor's face, all because "regular Republicanism" is to disappear "forever."

What Would They Buy With.

Under a Tariff for revenue only, many goods could be bought at lower prices than are now paid under a Protective Tariff. That is the purpose of a Tariff for revenue only—to make things cheaper, including the price of labor. Granted, then, that things could be bought cheaper; but what would they be bought with? Remember, please, that those things that are going to be bought cheaper are things made by foreign labor, and that they are going to take the place of things that are made by American labor. In that case American labor is idle, unemployed, displaced by the products of foreign labor. In that case American workmen have nothing to buy with. They can buy neither the products of foreign factories nor the products of American farms. Do American laborers like that prospect? Do American farmers like it? If they do they should vote for Free-Trade Wilson and a Free-Trade Congress. Otherwise not.

Would Close the Woolen Mills.

Prof. Wilson attempted to hedge in his sweeping assault on Protection at Sea Girt, last week, by saying he was not in favor of any Tariff reduction which would hurt business. Immediately thereafter he announced that he was heartily in favor of the Wool bill.

That this bill become a law, it would have resulted in the closing of every woolen mill in the country. The hedge-podge prepared by La Follette and Underwood must necessarily have caused a reduction in wages, and the wool workers would look for other employment rather than accept less pay.

Prof. Wilson stands committed to Free Trade, and it is up to the wage earners to protect themselves and their families by voting against him at the coming election. Any other course means reduction of Tariff, which means reduction of wages.

T. R. Forces Gaining Strength.

Columbia, Ky., Aug. 26.—The Progressive party, although largely in the majority now, is gaining ground every day in Adair County, and by the November election it is doubtful if the Taft followers can muster up a sufficient number of men throughout the county to make up his two rats of election officers. The hard fight will be next year in the county races. There are many Progressives in Adair County who will make efficient officials, but the following are more prominently spoken of as candidates: Julius Hancock, County Judge; O. P. Smyth, County Attorney; G. E. Wilson, County Clerk; J. T. Barber, Jr., Jailor; Miss Pearl Hindman, Superintendent of Schools; Jo. Nat. Connor, Assessor; J. N. Coffey, Surveyor; T. C. Davidson, Sheriff; Dr. C. M. Hunter, Coroner.

BULL MOOSE MEETING EXPENSES IS SMALL

Statement Shows They Cost Less Than Any Other Convention.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—LaVerne W. Noyes, treasurer of the Progressive Convention, Arrangements Committee, has made public a statement of receipts and disbursements for the recent Progressive National Convention in August, showing that the total expense of the convention was $19,400.

In substantiating his report of the convention finances, Mr. Noyes said: "The first national convention of the Progressive party was conducted at less cost to the people than probably any convention of the Republican or Democratic parties for years."

"National conventions have been growing more expensive. The members of the Arrangements Committee for, as Progressives, it was more in keeping with the policy of this movement to avoid all unnecessary expense and to finance the convention by popular subscription."

The balance sheet shows the following receipts:

From individuals	$2,000.00
From Chicago hotels	3,500.00
From ticket sale	13,900.00
From programs	1,500.00
Total	$19,400.00

As the total expenses for hotel, meals, offices and arrangements amounted to $19,400.00, the committee has a balance of $75.00 on hand.

MANY POISONED

BY ICE CREAM

Fifty People in Serious Condition at Nortonville Saturday Night.

The Nortonville Hustler says: Potomac poison, caused by eating ice cream at a social given by the ladies of the Methodist church at Nortonville Saturday came near causing the death of a number of citizens of that place and many others were in a critical condition for a number of hours.

An ice cream supper had been extremely advertised by the ladies of the Methodist church there to be given in the grove near the church Saturday night, the proceeds to be used on the church. A large crowd was in attendance many coming from the surrounding country.

A large quantity of cream was ordered from Henderson, and the ladies, fearing that this would not be enough, made several gallons. The cream made at home, it is thought, caused the poisoning. About fifty of those who ate the cream became doubly sick during the latter part of the night, and Mrs. Moore and Howell had their hands full, and it was only by hard work that the lives of a number were saved.

Many were confined to their beds all day Sunday, but yesterday afternoon all were out of danger and no deaths, it was stated, would result from the poisoning.

Negro, 101. Is "Still Young."

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 28.—Uncle Levi Carter, by far the oldest citizen of this part of the State is now in his one hundred and first year, and one of the few real old-time negroes left here. The oldest residents of the city have known Uncle Levi all their lives, as he has lived in this town nearly all of his life. Uncle Levi also has a record that very few negroes have—having never been arrested or had to answer for any charge. When asked how old he was, Uncle Levi said he was "still young" and to give evidence of the fact, jumped up and knocked his heels together.

AROUND THE CAMP FIRE

STORIES OF 16TH WISCONSIN

Major Reynolds, While Under Arrest, Leads Regiment Gallantly at Battle of Shiloh.

The Sixteenth Wisconsin would have done credit to any army. It is seldom mentioned without recalling to some one the first major, Tom Reynolds, who became lieutenant colonel before the war closed.

The Sixteenth joined General Grant's army near Pittsburg Landing, March 20, 1862. Major Reynolds said something that was not agreeable to one of his superiors, not of the regiment, was placed in arrest and his sword taken, writes Lieut. Col. J. A. Watrous, in the Milwaukee Sentinel. He was still without a sword when the great battle of Shiloh began, April 6, 1862, but he went in with the regiment. When Col. Benjamin Allen and Lieut. Col. Cassius Fairchild were wounded Major Reynolds borrowed a sword and commanded the regiment gallantly until the close of the two days' fight.

Word was sent to General Grant that the officer of the Sixteenth, who had been placed in arrest had gone into the fight, and when his superior officers were wounded had taken command, contrary to military discipline. General Grant sent an aid for an exact report as to what Major Reynolds had done. The report was promptly returned. General Grant sent word to Major Reynolds, informing him that he was released from arrest, returning his sword, and thanked him for the courage and good judgment he had displayed.

Four companies of the Sixteenth are entitled to the honor of having been with the force of pickets the morning of the battle who were the first troops fired upon by Johnson's army. It was in this skirmish that Captain Saxe of Company A, a Waukegan county citizen of prominence, was killed. The Balance of the Sixteenth was formed in line of battle thirty or forty rods in advance of the camp it had maintained for several days. It is said by those who witnessed it that these young fellows, fresh from farms, shops, stores and plineries, went through the movement of changing front on Tenth company, under fire, with as much coolness as a veteran regiment of regulars would have done. Colonel Allen was wounded and had two horses shot under him, and Lieutenant Colonel Fairchild was severely wounded.

The Sixteenth Held an Exposed Position at the Battle of Corinth.

Shiloh was the first experience of real war that the Sixteenth had. It was a sorrowful experience. On the field of its dead heroes told of the sacrifices they had made for an endangered country and its insulted flag, and 149 more or less severely wounded told another story of pain and sacrifice.

The Sixteenth held an exposed position at the battle of Corinth, and showed its mettle by keeping the enemy back. Here it lost ten killed and twenty-seven wounded. The regiment did a large amount of guard duty, marching and counter marching during the following year, and was engaged in several actions of importance. It re-enlisted in March, 1864, and spent a month in Wisconsin, leaving for the front again on April 18. In the meantime, Lieutenant Colonel Fairchild had been made colonel, Reynolds lieutenant colonel and Capt. W. F. Dawes major. The regiment reached General Sherman's army about a month after it had begun the great campaign from Chattanooga to Atlanta, having traveled on foot a distance of 350 miles. It was assigned to the army of the Tennessee, and began fighting at Kennesaw mountain on the fifteenth. From then until the fall of Atlanta the regiment was in constant and active service. The battle of Bald Hill was one of the fiercest fought in that great campaign, if not in the war. The hill was taken and retaken several times, with frightful slaughter, the men of both sides clashing their muskets and fighting like demons. The Sixteenth led in one of these charges. It had for its nearest neighbor another Wisconsin regiment, the Twelfth.

POOR AS A CHURCH MOUSE

Since Confetti Came Into Use, the Saying Has More Meaning Than at Former Times.

The sexton of a fashionable New York church was sweeping into a large mound the bright purple, red and yellow discs of confetti which littered the church entrance and steps. "This month," he said, "I have had already 35 weddings in my church. And at every one of these weddings paper confetti was thrown at the bride instead of rice."

"The confetti fashion is very welcome to us sextons. When rice was used our churches were overrun with mice. The saying, 'As poor as a church mouse,' was then meaningless. Why, in my church, where weddings are so popular, several hundreds of mice-fat chaps they were, too—found an ample food supply in the rice that was sprinkled over the brides."

"Now that rice has been abandoned for paper confetti, these mice have all disappeared. They were starved out. They couldn't live on paper."

Rendering with difficulty to collect a few obstinate pieces of the bright paper confetti that stuck to the floor, the old sexton added:

"Of course, these bits of paper are much more awkward for me to sweep up than rice. But, even so, I hope the confetti fashion has come to stay."

HER SHARE OF THE BUREAU

Girl Visitor's Idea of a Division Seemed to Be to Take All the Space You Could Get.

"A friend came to visit me last week," said the Girl Flapper, "and as there is only one bureau I told her I would have to share it with her. So I pushed my things out of the way and she began to unpack. This is what she put out:

"A bottle of spirits of camphor, a bottle of camphor water and horacle acid that she uses for her eyes, a bottle of witch hazel, another of benzoin, a box of face powder and a tin of talcum powder, a make-up box, sixteen ivory toilet things, four Stevenson texts in frames, an atomizer, a bottle of ammonia, another of oil of pennyroyal for mosquitoes, nine hatspins, a sewing bag, a jewelry box, some perfume and an alcohol lamp. "Now, I'll unpack my bathroom things," she said, and she took out three sponges, large, medium and small; a rubber bath glove, a bottle of liquid soap and four kinds of tooth powders and mouth washes, a patent exerciser, a bathrobe and slippers, an antiseptic bathbrush, a rubber spray, a thermometer and a whiskbroom. "Then she borrowed my button-book."

Surprise Boxes in Shark Stomachs.

Fishermen in the Caribbean sea recently found in the stomach of a shark which they had killed a good sized bottle in which was a half-digested letter from a shipwrecked sailor. Many such relics have been found. In one case a lady's bracelet was found in a state of perfect preservation, together with a silver spoon and a thousand Spanish reales in money. The curious feature of the finding of the money was that it was in an official receipt lost in the city of Spanish Town (Jamaica) during a negro uprising in the seventeenth century. Where had it been meantime? Surely not in the shark's stomach, unless the shark lives a much longer time (or some of them) than science has any reason to suppose possible. On the other hand, if in the sea it would have been rendered unrecognizable in a few weeks. Had it been in the possession of some one shipwrecked, why had it been left intact? The conclusion was inevitable that the shark must have fished it out from a compartment of some long-submerged vessel. — Harper's Weekly.

Suspended Animation.

As we descend in the scale of animal life we find that what kills the higher animals does not injure the lower. Cut a polyp in two, and you have two living polyps instead of one dead polyp. Break off a lobster's claw, and another will grow. You may, it has been said, freeze a fly, but you cannot freeze it to death. There are infusoria called "wheel-animalcules." These rotifers have many curious qualities, among which is that of suspending animation for an indefinite period without ceasing to live.

Colonies of rotifers may be desiccated and rendered apparently lifeless, and in this condition they may be kept for months and years, and possibly centuries. A single drop of water will restore them to life, and the wheel-beaters will instantly resume their functional activity precisely at the point where it was broken off. — Harper's Weekly.

Neat!

A Washington man called upon a charming but homely woman, who had not long before had her portrait painted. The artist had done his work well, from a friendly point of view, and the lady was correspondingly pleased. She was not, however, so blind as not to see that the portrait was, as one might say, a trifle "idealized."

As she exhibited it to her caller she said: "What do you think of it? Has not the artist rather flattered me?" The visitor looked at the picture, then at the lady, and with an eloquent sigh answered: "Ah, my dear lady, how could a painter sit in your company and not flatter you?"

Farm Topics.

COWPEAS IN CORN.

Every farmer in the southern half of the corn belt should consider sowing cowpeas in corn. If the season is dry, or the corn is unusually rank and thickly planted, the cowpeas will not do much, but under average conditions they will furnish splendid fall pasture, they may be turned under as green manure, in a favorable season cowpeas seeded in corn at the last cultivation will add as much fertility to the land as a cover crop.

The best way of sowing cowpeas in corn at the last cultivation is to use a single-furrow wheel drill. Take off the outer disks of the drill, and put on only about three rows of cowpeas between each two rows of corn. Lay the corn by as early as possible so that you can get the cowpeas planted early in July. It takes about three pecks of cowpeas, seed to the acre.

North of the latitude of Central Iowa we doubt if the growth of cowpeas sown in corn at the last cultivation will more than pay for the cost of the seed. Under northern corn belt conditions rape is a better crop to seed in corn at the last cultivation. Rape will grow under the cool weather conditions of September and October, and the seed is much cheaper than cowpea seed—Wagoner's Farmer.

FOOD VALUE OF RIPE CORN.

The food value of the corn plant increases fast from the time it is first sown until it is ripe. The corn plant has its full size when tasselled out, the change comes on the inside, which is filled up with food material. Prof. E. P. Laid has found that there is as much dry matter in an acre of corn when ripe as in five acres when first tasselled out. When grazed, there is as much there as in much dry matter in one acre as in four acres when just fully tasselled out. From this it is easy to see that if the corn is cut too early all one gets is the straw work and not the food material.

The surest way to get ripe corn is to plant home-grown seed. If an early maturing variety of corn is grown in the south it loses its early maturity. The seed corn should be selected in the field and dried in a room with some stove heat. Home-grown seed, selected and cured in this way, will produce corn that ripens; which means corn with the greatest food value. Prof. W. C. Palmer, North Dakota Agricultural College.

OVERHEAD IRRIGATION.

The overhead system of irrigation is making rapid progress in all parts of the country. Irrigation is an assurance, and an immense number of growers are making provision for this sort of protection. The cost per acre ranges from $100 to $150, and the services of a plumber are not needed to install the system.—National Stockman and Farmer.

TURNS FOR NEXT WINTER.

Turnips for winter storage may be sown in July and August. Two to three pounds per acre are required. In field culture the rows are often 20 inches apart, to facilitate hoeing and cultivation. The seed is sown in rows broadcast from July 20 to August 1, when the crop is grown for stock.

BORDEAUX IS A GOOD THING.

Spray the tomato vines with the Bordeaux mixture to prevent rot, blight, etc. Bean rust and anthracnose, potato rot and blight, fungous diseases of melons, cucumbers, etc., can all be largely prevented by timely applications of this same mixture.

Shocking Sound.

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warning of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention. If you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease, take Electric Bitters at once and see headache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Miss. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at All Drugstores.

Some Facts About Kentucky.

"Not the oldest nor yet the youngest; not the richest nor yet the poorest; not the largest nor yet the best; but true it is in all, men and women, for fields and herds, for fields and skies, for happy homes and jolly friends, the best place outside of Heaven for the Good Lord ever made."

22,292 acres of Kentucky are in farms of which 14,547 are improved. The State has more navigable streams than any other equal area in the United States.

The average value of a farm including its equipment, is $2,386. The average value of farm land per acre is $21.83.

Interesting Story of How Will
Curley Saw First Train.

The Louisville Times last Saturday

It is just as hard to photograph William B. Curley as it is to make a living from him, and this is the reason his very intimate friends call him "Wild Bill," but you had better be sure you are privileged before you attempt this familiarity, or you are liable to be "cuffed" for it. This statement is made to explain the seeming oddness of the pose in the picture herewith presented. Mr. Curley being camera shy it was necessary to "take" him by subterfuge, so he was inveigled into standing up against a wall under the supposition that he was to be measured for stature. Before he had time to "duck" he was snatched by the Times photographer, and thus is an eager public given opportunity to gaze upon his "mountainous" presentment. Mr. Curley is one of the best known and best engineers of the Illinois Central, Louisville Division. He was born and "reared" in Ohio county, Ky., in the vicinity of Campy's Curve, named for his family. This place is on his "farm" to-day, and he gets frequent glimpses of his boyhood haunts as he flashes by on his engine.

He is a fearless driver, and yet, in the beginning he was just as shy of a locomotive as he still is of a camera. Anecdotes of this his friends tell the following story on him.

At the time the E. & P. road was built he was a simple country lad, working on his father's farm from sun to sun, with an other ambition than to till the soil. The road passed close to the old home place, and the opening of it was a big event to the people all along the line.

At that time Bill, so the story goes, had a sweetheart called Sad, who was just as rustic as her beau. Of course, Bill had to take Sad to see the first train go by. He figured up a mile to the hay rack, the closest thing on the place to a buggy, and started on his way, where they could see the "iron horse" go by. Arriving at the point of vantage, Bill unfolded the mare, and tied him to a nearby tree, then rejoined Sad on the seat of the hay rack to wait for the train. After a while Sad, who had become thirsty, said:

"Bill, I think you'd better pull this far rig away, for I'm kind of scared that that pesky engine might jump off the track and run into us."

Of course, Bill, greatly acquiescent in the request, being also a little timid about the thing himself, so getting into the shade of the rack, he proceeded to pull Sad to a place of safety. Just then the train came rattling around the curve and the engine emitted a scorching which so scared Bill that he ran away like a scared horse, turned over the rack and dumped Sad so that she broke her leg.

Whether this is fact or fiction is hard to say, since Bill will neither affirm nor deny when it is told on him, which is frequently the "yes lady," and proceeds to tell one on another prominent engineer running out of Louisville. This engineer was a boy comrade of Bill's in Ohio county, and after the railroad was built was induced to take a job there.

One afternoon after the train had climbed Curley's curve, which is up a sharp grade, the engineer missed his footing and backed down, fearful of finding his head on the ground. At length the train reached the old home of the missing engineer, and a stop was made to communicate the sad tidings of the supposed accident. Then the engineer learned that the "lost" train was the famous given name—had "come home." Sure enough he was found in the "hay," and being rescued up explained that as the train rounded up Curley's curve a feeling of homesickness came over him that he could not resist and he stepped off the engine and went back to the old place. "I felt I couldn't get along without my cornbread and butter," he said in further explanation. He was, however, induced to resume his place on the engine for the trip. He stuck, and is now one of the most valued engineers on the entire division.

As for William B. Curley, the subject of this sketch, he has paraded the many "stranges" where he began with the road in 1876, when it was the E. & P. (Hartford and Paducah), a reversed of the original E. & P. (Hartford and Paducah). Later it became a part of the Harrington system, the Newport News, Mississippi Valley and Southwestern, and still later was taken over by the Illinois Central. Mr. Curley is popular and prominent in the neighborhood of Louisville, Ky., and continuously since 1888 has served the local division as secretary and treasurer.

Organize at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 21.—The Fayette County Progressive Committee met here today and organized for the campaign by electing L. A. Rutledge, a well-known farming implement dealer, chairman and B. E. Col. H. C. Morgan, the well-known ex-Confederate of this city, who is a brother-in-law of Gen. Basil Duke, of Louisville, was introduced as the Progressive candidate for Congress in opposition to Congressman J. Campbell Gentry, and his name will be presented at the district meeting here next Saturday for that action.

Provisions were made for opening headquarters with the view of prosecuting an aggressive campaign for Roosevelt and Johnson in this city and county. Speeches endorsing the members of the committee were made by Henry T. Danahy, Thomas L. Walker, former Republican county chairman, Charles H. Berryman and Revenue Agent M. P. Bohorn.

Free Trip to Farmer Boys.

James L. Dent, secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, has written asking that boys from Ohio county enter the Farmer Boys' contest for the best essays on the subject, "Our Home Farm." Only boys between the ages of fifteen and eighteen are eligible. There will be 120 boys from all over the state who will have their expenses paid for a week at the fair and their railway fare from home and return. The week at the fair, which is held at Louisville from Sept. 20th to 26th, will include lessons in agriculture and the boys will all camp together, making it a rare outing for those who write the successful essays. Application should be made at once to the county school superintendent, Henry Leach, for rules governing the contest, in order that the essays may be submitted in plenty of time before the opening of the fair.

I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this reliable, reliable medicine for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. MILLIONS ACQUIRED BY AN OLD MINER

Are Bequeathed to Joe Harris, a
Knoxville Auctioneer, Proved a Friend in Need.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 24.—Joe Harris, 66 years old, now poor, but years ago a prosperous auctioneer of this city, was given good cause yesterday to remember that 21 years ago, in a coal-miners' rioting he had befriended a poor stranger in the city, a man of 28, just over from Scotland, whose sweetheart had died, by giving the starving tramp his breakfast and employment.

Yesterday morning Colonel Cary E. Spencer, Knoxville's postmaster, read to Harris a letter which stated that William Robinson had died in Brisbane, Australia, leaving his fortune of $2,000,000 to Joe Harris, his benefactor, who had saved him on a trip to Alaska, where he had struck it rich in the gold fields near Cape Nome.

The letter was written by A. D. Smythe, from the Navarre hotel, New York city, Smythe stating that he had just landed in that port from Brisbane, enroute to England. He had learned of the will, and wrote his letter to Postmaster Wills of Nashville, who forwarded it to Colonel Spencer. The will mentioned Harris as having been a member of the Tennessee general assembly in 1888.

Five years after Harris had saved Robinson a letter came through from Cape Nome, Alaska, enclosing $500, and stating that Robinson, the writer, had struck it rich. As this $500 more than repaid Harris for his kindness and advice, he was not surprised that he did not again hear from the young Scotchman, but Colonel Spencer had to read the letter yesterday several times to the excited old auctioneer, who could scarcely believe his good fortune.
